Decoding Dyslexia

Tri-Valley Dyslexia Support Group

Decoding Dyslexia CA's Tri-Valley Support group includes parents/caregivers and educators who get together once a month to offer support, share ideas and resources, and empower each other as we experience the successes and challenges of raising a child with dyslexia. It is intended to be a safe place to share what participants are going through with others who understand, or may have overcome a similar challenge and can offer insight or experience.

Website	https://decodingdyslexiacalifornia.org
Email	ddcatrivalley@gmail.com

Decoding Dyslexia CA is a grassroots movement driven by California families, educators, and professionals concerned with the limited access to evidenced-aligned instructional practices for students with dyslexia and other language-based learning disabilities in CA public schools. We believe that literacy is a foundational skill and that access to evidence-based literacy instruction is a civil right. We strive to reverse the profound inequities faced by children in impacted communities who are struggling to read. We advocate for policies and legislation that advance access to, and best practices in, literacy instruction.

Futures Explored – Livermore Film and Media

Led by the choices of individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities, Futures Explored creates equitable access to relevant programs, supports, and advocacy.

Our programs and services include:

- Community Connections
- Employment + Education
- Film & Media
- Personal Wellness

Our story began on January 6, 1964 in Lafayette, California, with a small group of young adults, their parents and the founding Director, Helen Young. At that time we were called the “Enterprise.”

The group included six individuals with intellectual/developmental disabilities who made hand-crafted items for sale and the program was staffed mostly by volunteer parents. At the time there were few, if any, programs and services for adults with developmental disabilities. Decades later, we are proud of the impact we’ve made on thousands of lives across Northern California.
